THE SITUATION IN THE PHILIPPINES.

HONGKONG, Sept. 27.

The situation in the Philippines is gradually assuming a peaceful aspect; but it can scarcely be said that all the elements of danger have been removed. President Aguinaldo, as a matter of fact, finds it more difficult to rule his generals than it is generally known, and it is quite within the bounds of possibility that should he attempt to enforce his presidential prerogatives not one but several schemes might occur.

As between the Americans and the Filipinos the best disposition of the situation may be put in the two words: "Armed toleration." The Filipinos tolerate the Americans because they hope for a generous measure of self-government under the wings of the United States; the Americans tolerate the Filipinos as a necessary evil and wait for the decision of the Peace Conference at Paris. After the ultimatum from Major-General Otis, Aguinaldo agreed to withdraw his forces from the suburbs of Manila. But as there is some ambiguity in the word "suburbs" as applied to Manila, the troops, after retiring to Pasay, returned and occupied a portion of Santa Ana and the other suburbs; which, are, strictly speaking, not in the parish of Manila—or whatever may be the Spanish equivalent for parish. So that with that subtlety which characterizes the Oriental mind, the Filipinos comply with the strict letter of the ultimatum and ignore the spirit of it. Recent arrivals from Manila are of opinion, however, that if the Filipinos are once assured that the Spaniards will not be retroceded to Spain the natives will settle down to their wonted peaceful pursuits, and that the country will experience a prosperity far exceeding anything in the past history of the Philippines. Amongst the American troops, unfortunately, there is a great deal of sickness. Dysentery, typho-malarial and simple malarial fevers, and kindred climatic diseases are prevalent; and nearly 1500 men are now in the hospitals. The transports have been taking home hundreds of invalids and men who are proving useless for the climate; and the City of Rio de Janeiro, which sailed from Hongkong to-day after staying here since Sunday morning, takes away about 300 sick men. Mr. P. D. Miller, who represented the London Times during the land fighting near Malate, is a passenger from Manila to Japan by this steamer. As stated by us several weeks ago, a large stock of arms and ammunition was landed at Batangas by the steamer Albatross (better known in Hongkong as the Pluto), and we now learn that two or three maxim guns were taken over for the rebels. The American authorities have seized the steamer, which was to be expected.

A party of Royal Marines for service at Wai-wei-lai left Chatham on 20th August to embark on the steamship Brigade at the Albert Dock. The detachments, which included the contingents from the Portsmouth and Plymouth divisions, was played from the garrison to the railway by the Royal Marines band. Captain W. A. Harris was in command of the party.

One of the two U.S.S. built by Messrs Schuchert & Ebbings, for the Chinese Government, namely, the Hai-Lung, recently made its trial trip in the presence of the head officials of the German Torpedo Department. With all-weather and equipment on board and the coal-bunkers full, the vessel, of 700 tons, made 33 knots average speed. Messrs. Schuchert & Ebbings received a prize from the German Government for the Hai-Lung and the Hai-Lung.
